FREE WOOL FIGHT NEXT ON PROGRAM

With Sugar Disposed Of, Democrats Anticipate No Trouble.

BETTER PROGRESS MADE

Predictions Are That Tariff Will Be Out of Way by September 11.

Washington, August 20.—Free raw wool is the next fight ahead on the tariff bill in the Senate, and it probably will be reached to-morrow, the cotton and flax schedule having been practically disposed of to-day.

The free sugar victory having been won for the administration yesterday with a few votes to spare, Democratic leaders have no fear of the wool vote. It is expected, will be about the same as that on sugar, with Senators Thornton and Ransdell, of Louisiana, the only Democrats voting with the Republicans.

Progress on the bill in the last few days has been encouragingly rapid, and to-night there were some predictions that the tariff bill might be out of the way by September 11. Less resistance than was expected developed on the cotton schedule, Senator Lipsett, of Rhode Island, conducting the opposition. He induced the Democrats to accept one of his suggestions modifying provisions of a paragraph relating to cotton cloths, and the committee, together with that relating to table damasks. Some reclassifications may be agreed to later.

Final disposition of the cotton rates will not be made without another discussion, however, because Senator LaFollette gave notice that he would submit a substitute for the entire schedule when the bill came from the committee of the whole.

Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, vigorously opposed the free-listing of flax and hemp as decreed by the Senate Finance Committee. He asked the Democrats why they had retained protection on the products of the flax mills and given free materials to the mills.

"We have chosen to put all textile raw materials on the free list," said Senator Williams, "to enable us to make greater reduction in the tariffs on finished products than we otherwise could have done."

Senators Penrose and Martin, enlisting the support of a number of Republicans, exchanged personalities. Mr. Martin quoted Rudolph Spreckels as believing free sugar would not ruin the best sugar industry in the world.

FURTHER CHARGES AGAINST SULZER

gether were the most important in the war on Sulzer since the impeachment.

Avalanche of Testimony.
 Determined to bury him under an avalanche of testimony, the board of managers took up all the evidence submitted by the Frawley committee and decided that it was enough. To make sure that charges of misconduct while in office that can be established be included in the indictment they took up the usurpation matter. They were informed by counsel that this was quite within their power to charge, and that documentary evidence can be supplied in the State paper issued since August 13, and bearing William Sulzer's signature.

The committee next took up the secret visit of Sulzer to the Capitol a few hours before the Assembly voted to impeach him. This much was known to-day, that half a dozen assemblymen were sent for by Mr. Sulzer who sat in the half light of one of the back offices with all the blinds pulled down and that Leader Levy permitted only three to go. These were men of whom he was absolutely sure.

"Why are you going to vote for my impeachment, I have done a great deal for you."

"What have you done?" inquired the legislator.

"I've signed all the legislation you asked me to sign."

"That," replied the assemblyman, "was in the public interest. You have no hold on me."

The managers have requested the Frawley committee to renew its investigation in New York and to amplify the testimony on some points. Handwriting experts will be called to establish the authenticity, if possible, of the signature of William Sulzer on the $500 check deposited in the new famous Boyer, Griswold & Co. transaction. It is possible that the alleged contributions of August Belmont, Henry T. Oxnard and others interested in the new building, will be discussed. No plans have as yet been made to take any testimony from radical men.

Gets New Quarters.
 Governor Glynn's first act was to call a meeting of the Public Building Board to acquire for himself new quarters.

The board designated as the official executive chamber were formerly used by the Board of Efficiency and Economy. They are located on the third floor. The old executive chamber is one floor below. Mr. Glynn moved in after the meeting, August 27, at which the signature of William Sulzer on the $500 check deposited in the new famous Boyer, Griswold & Co. transaction. It is possible that the alleged contributions of August Belmont, Henry T. Oxnard and others interested in the new building, will be discussed. No plans have as yet been made to take any testimony from radical men.
